Windellama Garden Club Incorporated News

At our last meeting held at our place we discussed our Can-Assist fund raiser via our cake auction to be held on Saturday 12th August 2017.

After the meeting some of us had a look around our garden. One thing that was very noticeable was the mess that Jack Frost had made of the Dahlia bushes and the Pumpkin vines. The mature pumpkins will be all the better as Folk Law states "that Mr Frost and his frozen touch actually make them sweeter" – time will tell! The ones that were still ripening will be enjoyed by the egg layers. Jack also singed the new shoots on our citrus and at the same time gave the figs a do over.

Just remember, don't be in a hurry to trim the frost damaged leaves as they will protect the plant from more serious damage when Jack Frost visits again. Leave the damaged leaves trimming to spring or when the frosts have finished at your place. You may have a bit of a wait because at our place last year we had a frost on Melbourne cup day, so it could be a bit of a wait before the trimmers come out!

On the brighter side the three apple trees planted have produced well for their first crop. Over 60 good size Gala Apples were picked and consumed. The Granny Smiths also have cropped well and are being picked and the Pink Ladies have a little bit more ripening to do.

Our garden beds have been prepared for the Broad Beans and different types of Brassicas. All we need now to complement these beds is a bit of damp doings from above. One thing we do with our brassica beds is put different types in each bed e.g., couple of cabbages, a few broccoli plants, and some kale. Then once these plants are established we do the same with the next brassica bed. This way we don't have a glut. I find at our place it is too late now for Brussel Sprouts. These challenging plants need to be planted in October/November and by early winter, with luck; they will be forming the sprouts. That is, if the white butterfly grub hasn't consumed them.

We also have a bed ready for the onions, so I need to get my finger out and purchase some seedlings and get them in the ground.

Cake Stall & Sausage Sizzle

Nerriga Progress & Sporting Association will be holding a Cake Stall and Sausage Sizzle on Saturday June 10 - Queen's Birthday Weekend at Nerriga Hall. There will also be our Cafe stall so drop in for tea or coffee, and maybe even a mug of hot soup. Hope to see you there.

We'll open at 9am and stay until sold out, which is around 1pm.

Great to see road works happening on Nerriga Road. Patching of some really bad potholes and importantly the front of Nerriga Pub.

Maybe patrons could start parking on the other side of the road from the Pub, that way the apron will stay free of potholes. Thankyou to QPRC for this work.

June in Your Garden

By Irene Turner

With all the leaves on the ground from the trees, this is a good time to start your compost bin.

Start the heap by spreading the material to a depth of 20cm. then give a heavy dressing of agricultural lime and some animal fertilizer, then cover with a thin layer of topsoil, let the heap build up to a depth of 1m. If you regularly turn the heap, this hastens the decomposition and make sure the compost heap is kept moist, not wet. During the warm weather compost should be ready for use within 10 to 12 weeks.

VEGETABLES

Sow seeds of broad beans, peas. Also put in onion seedlings. You can plant garlic now.

Rhubarb crowns can be divided now, and replanted make sure the soil contains plenty of rotted manure, compost, balanced fertilizer and plenty of water if weather is warm.

You can divide strawberry plants now. Strawberry plants should be put into a new ground every three years. If growing in pots replace the potting medium and add complete fertilizer. Do not use any diseased plants, start with fresh new plants.

FLOWERS

Seedlings which are planted now will start flowering in spring, Stock, pansy, viola, primula, wallflowers, Russell lupins, delphiniums, foxgloves, Ice poppies, sweet Williams and calendula.

This month if there are any gardens which aren`t being used, turn the soil over regularly roughly to open it up. The frost sweeten the soil, for spring planting.

You can plant roses and fruit trees now, or move a tree which is not doing well where it is.

Citrus trees are limited in our climate. The most suitable are Meyer lemons, facing north and out of westerly winds. They like acid soil, so feed them in spring with special citrus fertilizer.

I cover my Myer lemon to protect from the heavy frosts.

Sow native everlasting or paper daisies directly in the ground.

Prune abelias, removing deadwood and old canes, and thinning the remaining growth by about one-third.

Cover frost-sensitive plants, particularly those planted recently. Watch out for caterpillars now.

Craft @ Windellama Hall

We meet from the second Tuesday of the month 1—4 pm.
For more information please call Irene Turner on 48445 214.

Windellama SES First Aid & CFR

Four of our Community First Respond team were fortunate enough to have attended an Ambulance training "expo" at Jindabyne, this was a very good learning experience for them.

We have had some rather taxing callouts in regard to the CFR side of our operations during the past month. The SES side of things was not an issue.

I must mention a report written up in the local paper on the 5th of May, relating to the bus crash some two years ago. This does appear to be at odds as to the way we saw things.

Some of our members attended the Anzac Day ceremony at Bungonia, a very moving experience. There were many in attendance. Two of our members attended the Windellama Church ceremony, so both areas were represented

Margaret and I were fortunate enough to be able to attend the Collector Pumpkin Festival as SES members. We were only too pleased to help Gary and his SES members and friends, who organized the event, boy what a day, estimated crowd of about 15,000.

We are fortunate in as much as we can experience events such as those mentioned in an official capacity, this shows just how much help we as SES members can and do give, to various entities in the surrounding areas. Why not join up and lessen the burden on us.

I do not have the space to describe the type of driving that I have witnessed over the last month, to say the least, it is disgraceful.

Nerriga Gardeners

Another beautiful day although we are all hanging out for rain and if it doesn't come over the next couple of days then watering will have to start in earnest or plants will succumb.

We met with lovely morning tea at Corang Cottage and after it had a look at the garden while the 2 dogs Lulu and Zahra caught up with each other after Zahra being on light duties due to a deep pad injury. They flew about the garden and my idiot Lulu managed to take out Helen leaving her with a couple of bruises on her shins. Not good news and it hurt but dog was totally unaware of the havoc she was causing.

This incident was not allowed to spoil the day and we inspected the Dutch Iris now about 20cm high and various other spring bulbs that should still be in bed. The winter clematis (clematis cirrhosa Lansdowne gem) was putting on a lovely show and was unaffected by the -6oC we had here Monday a week ago. It only suffers in the high summer when the leaves scorch despite being on the east of the house under the edge of the skillion roof.

The wattles are all in full bud and the chrysanthemums were also being good and were in flower for Mother's Day. Several cyclamen were available after being lifted from the grass where they had self seeded and were at the mercy of the lawnmower and some found new homes. Lunch was then had and stories exchanged with Di reporting on her trip to the Kimberley which she had just returned from. Many reported damage from browsing animals who have got quite inventive at finding the best plants. Our next meeting will be at Lynley's on Douglas Paddock Road on June 15th. If coming from points west of Corang PO road meet there at 09-40 or at the end of Douglas Paddock Road at 9-50 as it is a long wiggle down the dirt road.

INDONESIAN INTERCULTURAL TEACHER EXCHANGE

Last year we applied for and were successful in obtaining a grant to participate in the Asia Education Foundation's, Indonesian Bridge Program. Mrs Hayes and I participated in a 4 day intensive professional development training, where teachers came from all Australian states and territories with us being the only New South Wales school in attendance. During this time we met and worked with our two Indonesian partner teachers, Ibu Sundu and Bapak Wawan. We have welcomed them into our school to share their knowledge and culture with our school community over a 2 week period. This is the start of our partnership. When they go back to Indonesia we will continue to engage with their students and school via many technological devices, including video conferencing and Google Drive.

It has been wonderful to host Ibu Sundu and Bapak Wawan in Windellama as we build strong intercultural friendships and bonds with them.

MULTIPURPOSE COURT

Construction has started on our multipurpose court and our school community are very excited about the project. It will certainly change the landscape of our school and give students the opportunity to use a very modern sporting facility.

INDONESIAN CULTURAL DAY

To take the opportunity to share the knowledge of our Indonesian teachers with our friends and colleagues in TREC, we organised an Indonesian Cultural Day. Due to the current construction happening at Windellama, the day was held at Tirranna Public School.

Students were taught and engaged in traditional Indonesian games, songs, language and dance. All students did a tie-die T-Shirt and got to taste some traditional Indonesian food.

An online tool for residents

The NSW RFS has released a tool to help residents assess whether they live on bush fire prone land.

Previously residents could only refer to bush fire prone land maps from their local council.

For the first time, residents can check their own address on the NSW RFS website by simply typing their address and hitting 'get results'.

The NSW RFS has a number of valuable tools to help people plan and prepare for bush fires, like the latest Guide to making a bush fire survival plan.

A media release about this online tool is available on the NSW RFS website.

For any enquiries about the tool contact the team at bushfireprone.mapping@rfs.nsw.gov.au.

Camp fire is approximately 1 meter square.

A pile burn should not be greater than 2m in length or width, and must not be greater than 1.5m high. Make the pile wide and long rather than high. This will spread the heat and be safer.

On May 2nd the Willow Glen Garden club ventured into the ACT for an excursion to Canberra's National Arboretum which is home to 94 separate forests containing over 48,000 trees including extensive collections of rare and endangered species from around the globe.

Everywhere you look art has been imprinted into the landscape, lit timber panels and glass etchings tell stories of plant evolution as they frame the entrance walk into the award winning 'Village Centre', Once inside the centre, you are immediately struck by the beautiful "Tree Ring" floor feature which has been skilfully crafted using mostly native hardwoods.

The Arboretum also houses many unique sculptural artworks such as the "Armillary Sphere Sundial" located on 'Dairy Farmers Hill' and 'Nest III' which is a stunning sculpture of a wedge tail eagle on its nest. the children's playground is an artwork all of it's own!

Pleased to escape the morning's icy chill we congregated inside the architecturally outstanding 'Village Centre' lobby. While we waited for everyone to arrive we explored 'The Curatoreum' which is the Arboretum's charming little gift shop and spoke enviously of Warren and Judy who were unable to join us this month as they were off gallivanting in warmer climates.

Joy's birthday the previous day seemed like the perfect excuse for coffee and cake so our rather small group quickly made our way to the café for an extended morning tea and catch up. With our president away, the lovely Irene stepped in to chair the meeting and ensure that we at least briefly discussed our gardens before heading off to explore the bonsai exhibit!

What has been best described as "living artworks" The National Bonsai and Penjing Collection showcases around 80 specimens both exotic and native, each perfectly manicured tree or miniature forest of trees has taken many decades to create, some were over 60 years old which we were told was still fairly young for a Bonsai, with the oldest known worldwide having been handed down the generations for over 800years.

We were lucky enough to see several of the tiny trees displaying magnificent autumn colours and we felt as though we were giants peering into tiny worlds as we wandered among the display; I half expected to see fairies darting about the little branches!

We then had a walk through 'The Canberra Discovery Garden' which is all about teaching sustainability, they have planted vertically and traditionally with several edible plants and vegetables within eye catching water efficient raised garden beds. The pansies and marigolds dancing among the aubergine and tomato's also demonstrated companion planting beautifully as I noticed bee's busy gathering pollen despite the cool overcast morning.

The National Arboretum is free to visit (although parking costs do apply) and makes for a lovely day out for the whole family, with plenty of picnic spots and the children's acorn themed playground is amazing! The 'Sprout Café' inside the Village Centre has great coffee and fabulous cakes. The Arboretum also offers the fine dining 'Conservatory Restaurant' with delicious and beautifully presented culinary delights that will tickle any taste buds, the portion sizes are generous and desserts are incredible; I highly recommend the chocolate sorbet with sour cherries, mmm!

There are always public events and free guided forest walks running and you can find out the latest happenings via their website www.nationalarboretum.act.gov.au .

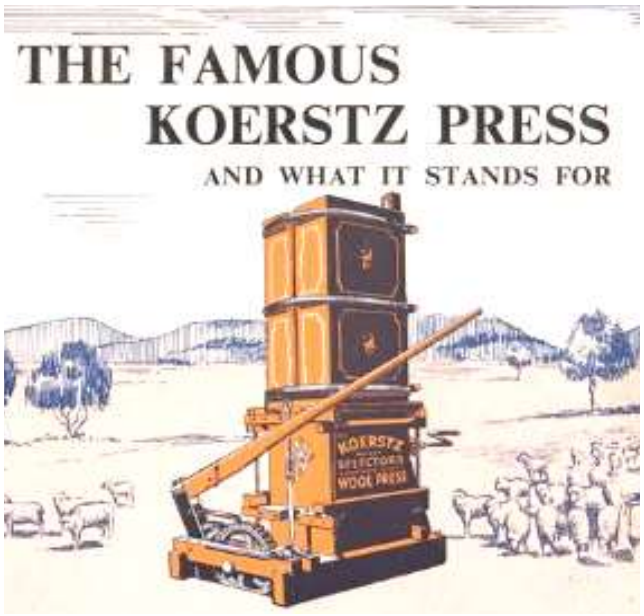
KOERSTZ Hay Press

Some progress has been happening in the last few months in the shed at the back of the museum. One feature exhibit will be the Koerstz wool press that came from the Hill View property of the McGaw family.

These presses revolutionised the wool industry. Built around 1900 the press is the Selectors model that sold for £15. It was the middle of the range model.



Christian Korestz was born in 1847 in Kolding, Denmark. He was an apprentice mechanic in a windmill factory.

Later he moved to New Zealand where he spent 12 years making butter boxes and building bridges. He revisited Denmark in 1887 and married Christina Kors.

They came to Australia and set up a partnership with Frederick Mason, a grain and produce merchant in Sussex Street Sydney.

He recognised that there was a market for a better wool press here. By 1930 some 12,000 of the Selector and Homestead presses had been sold. A heavier Squatters press was released in 1910.

Both the top and bottom boxes are filled with wool and then the top box is lifted up the central pole and swung around and places on top of the bottom box. The wool was then compacted into the bottom box using the long handle and a series of ropes and pulleys.

Christian Korestz retired in 1912 when his children took over the operation of the factory at Ryde and later at Rosebury.
He died in 1930.

KOERSTZ.—The Relatives and Friends of the late CHRISTIAN CHRISTIANSEN KOERSTZ, of the firm of C. Koerstz, Rosebery, are kindly invited to attend his Funeral; to leave his late residence, Kolding, Pennant-avenue, Ryde, THIS SATURDAY, at 3.15 p.m., for Church of England Cemetery, Field of Mars. Motor Funeral.

THE MONOGAMOUS SKINK THAT LIKES YELLOW!

By Kay Muddiman – Media Officer

No, it's not some unusual or rare species - it's the shingleback lizard (Tiliqua rugosa) that we are all familiar with in our branch area. I don't know why I found this surprising – I guess it's because lifelong romance is not something I would have associated with a reptile. However the shingleback is almost unique in the lizard world, finding a compatible mate and then continuing to pair up with the same partner for twenty or more years. As they only come together once a year for breeding, it begs the question of how they recognize and find each other! Easy-peasy if you're a shingleback - when breeding begins in spring, the male will seek out the female by the scent trails she leaves behind.

The guilty Shingleback chomping on my yellow gazanias!

That takes care of the monogamy – but what about liking yellow? Well, most of the shingleback's diet is made up of vegetable matter including foliage, berries and fruits, with the occasional insect, spider or scorpion being eaten. They have a particular liking for flowers and will seasonally gorge themselves on blossoms, particularly yellow ones if given the opportunity. Why yellow? Who knows! However I can vouch that it is true, having discovered a shingleback happily devouring all the blossoms on one of my yellow gazanias!

A couple of other interesting facts about Shinglebacks:

The tail is designed as a fat storage organ and, after a good season, these lizards can go many months without food if necessary.

Although the female can have one to four live young, which are rather large in comparison to mum (combined weight around one third of her body weight), on average she will give birth to only two.

It is an extremely distinctive member of the lizard family known as skinks, and is a close relative of the more familiar blue-tongued lizard, with the shingleback's tongue also being blue.

PLEASE NOTE OUR NEW TELEPHONE NUMBER: 1300 094737

After 27 years of operating our own 'rescue telephone line' our branch has now transferred to the WIRES Inc. dedicated rescue telephone number of 1300 094737. Should you need advice or help with injured or distressed wildlife, please ring this new number 1300 094737. Your call will be logged and directed to our branch electronically, so that we can respond accordingly. As always, our volunteers will be only too happy to assist.

Until next time - take care all,

Kay
