Windellama School P & C

P&C needs new participants

AGM is on 6.30pm, Monday 4 March

At the upcoming P&C annual general meeting, four executive positions – President, Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary – will be declared vacant. With at least three of our current committee moving on, we need new people willing to get involved.

The P&C contributes enormously to the school. Through fundraising efforts we have provided air conditioning for the library, purchased computers, an electronic white board and software. Last year we spent $4,000 to replace the school's home reader collection. Every year we subsidise attendance at camp or major excursions. to keep costs within reach of all families.

Becoming a committee member doesn't have to be onerous. We are lucky to have a good community of parents who are always willing to pitch in.

If you feel you have the time to attend a monthly evening meeting and are interested in helping out, please make sure you attend the AGM. If you are interested but would like to know more, please contact the school on 4844 5130.

When it comes to DIY ideas, it doesn't get much cuter than this.

Windellama SES First Aid & CFR

I had an interview with a representative from Regional H/Q this afternoon, whose job is to help with the paperwork which must be done to finally get the construction of our Unit underway, a rep was also there from a power company as well.

We have 5 people who have been good enough to come on board for our S.E.S. or C.F.R. team.

I wish to advise people that it is very important for them to be sure that they give the correct current road names when calling for one of the Essential Services to attend any incident that may arise. We as long time residents of the district know the names of roads that have been changed due to the new Council addressing system. Those who are not conversant with that will be well and truly confused. This will possibly end in tragedy one day.

We are soon to be supplied with a new type of vehicle which is more suitable for the type of work that we are expected to carry out. I and a new member of our team was fortunate enough to view the prototype, prior to the final fit out.

Regards Kevin Muffet
Team Leader
Windellama S.E.S. & C.F.R.

Thank you to Terri & David Batcheldor for their hospitality during our February get together.

Matt Jocelyn has kindly agreed to allow us to have a picnic lunch at Old Timberlight at his part of the Shoalhaven Gorge for March Gossips. So, we will meet at Nerriga Hall at 9.30 on Wed 20th March to be at Old Timberlight at 10am.

Please bring a picnic lunch & and thermos. As always everyone is welcome.

Please contact Kay Hamer 4845 9021 or Di Roberts 4844 5344 for details.

Willow Glen Gardeners

In February we re-visited Glencoe, Marian & John Pearce's home. WOW - we all gasped, to see & smell and especially to marvel at the fantastic progress of their relatively new home garden and new vegie section. What a credit to them both.

From bare dirt and rock they have lovingly brought to life (flora & fauna) a section that was mostly ruled by minor birds and the wind.

Our next get together will be a visit to the Canberra Arboretum on Tuesday 5th March. We are meeting at Windellama Hall at 9am to car pool. Bring lunch & drinks or you can purchase from the cafe there.

Shoalhaven River

Leaked coalition policy documents have revealed the Federal Opposition is giving consideration to the construction of Welcome Reef Dam on the Shoalhaven River and raising Warragamba Dam. The Telegraph reports today Opposition leader Tony Abbott wants to build about 100 dams across the nation to supply water to cities, farm irrigation networks and hydro electric power stations.

A dam on the Shoalhaven at Welcome Reef near Nerriga was first proposed about 30 years ago, but has been the subject of strident opposition from conservationists and Shoalhaven Council. Successive state governments have also rejected a dam on the middle reaches of the river, but have allowed the Sydney Catchment Authority to retain extensive tracts of land in the area.

2012 PRESENTATION NIGHT

The 2012 presentation night was held at the Windellama hall, due to impending inclement weather. The place was filled to capacity with many families and community members coming along to acknowledge the many achievements of our students and to farewell Mr Tony McCartney. Thanks to the Hall Committee for the use of a great venue!

THE NEW SCHOOL YEAR

CALLING FOR VOLUNTEERS

Next term we are starting a new program called 'Club Friday'. We are inviting the wider community of Windellama to come into our school to share their special talents, interests and passion with students. The type of things we have in mind are activities such as sewing, art and craft, woodwork, gardening, cooking, and photography. However we will be guided by the expert and special interests of our community.

If you are a person who has the time, or know of anyone that would like to work with groups of students, please contact Mrs Edworthy at the school on 4844 5130. Depending on the response we receive will depend on how many students will be in each group. We would be looking at starting the program in Week 4, Term 2 for a period of 4 weeks with the intention of continuing the activities after that.

CHUGGA

Located on the Spa Road off Chugga Lane is the property of Isaac's Gully and later known as Chugga. It was possibly named after Isaac's Creek that flows through the property.

Isaac's Gully was selected about 1875 by Samuel Hockey who was living on Budjong Creek. After selecting Isaac's Gully Samuel built a slab and bark house and the family moved there in 1878.

The house consisted of a large room with a big open fire at the western end, and a separate wing contained three bedrooms. These buildings stood until the 1960s.

When Samuel died in 1905 the property was inherited by their second youngest son, Albert James Hockey who never married.

The property next to Isaac's Gully was leased by Larry English. It was called "Sunny View". In 1923 Larry married Clara Bryant who had been widowed four years before when her husband, Thomas Felix Bryant was killed in a railway accident in Goulburn.

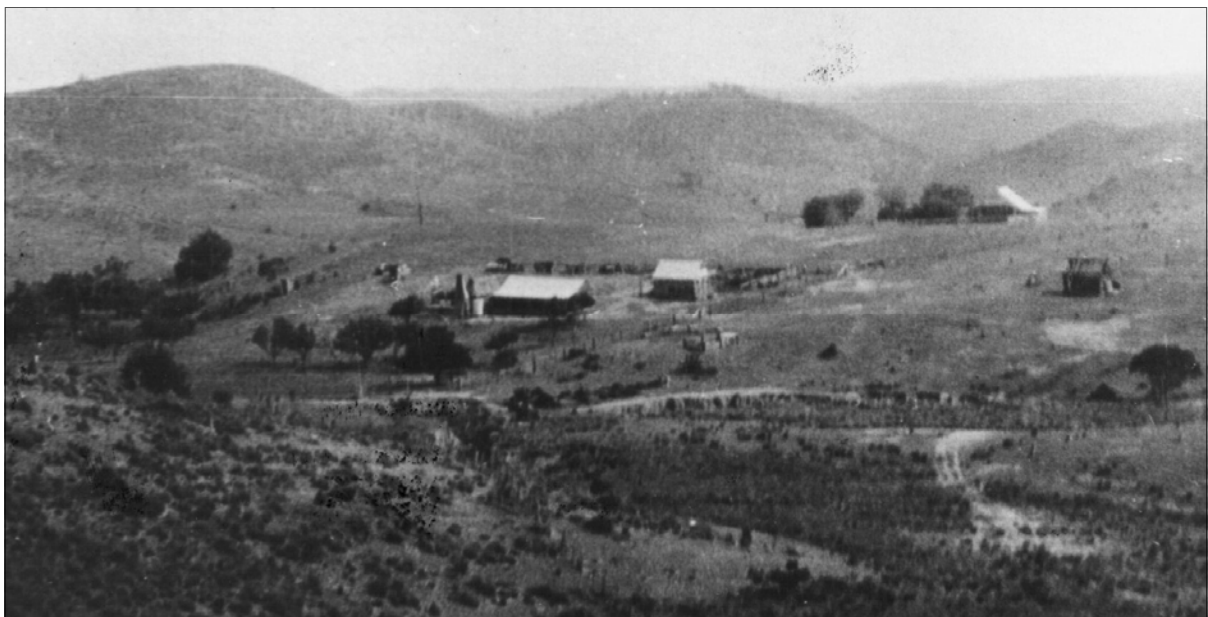

Clara née Stedfut was born in Windellama but had been living in Goulburn with her husband and two children, Norman and Gordon. When Larry and Clara married they moved to Windellama and as there was no house on Larry's land, they went to live with Albert Hockey at Isaac's Gully while they built a home of their own.

Larry commenced building a house on Sunny View upstream from Nerrimunga Bridge but it was later burnt down before it was finished. Some rebuilding was done but it was never occupied. Sometime in the 1940s, Larry wanted to install a shearing plant in the shearing shed at Isaac's Gully and sought an agreement from Albert Hockey that he could remove it if he left the property.

Albert said "no, I won't give you an agreement, I'll sell you the place as long as I can continue living here and Clara does my washing and cooking." Albert was by now in his 70s. It isn't known how much money changed hands but it is likely it was just a token amount.

In the 1950s Larry built a new dining/lounge room, kitchen and two bedrooms, the original dining room with the big open fire was pulled down and a laundry/bathroom and an engine room for the 32 volt lighting plant was built but never fully completed.

Albert Hockey died in 1961 and was buried in Goulburn. Clara died in 1966 and Larry moved into Goulburn to live with his son, Laurie and his family and the property was sold.

Bushfire Danger Period 1st October, 2012 until March 31st, 2013 (unless extended)

Since our January meeting, whilst we have not had a local incident we had crews at the 'Decca' fire at Bigga three nights in a row, it was started by lightning in very inhospitable terrain; we had three tankers at the Covan Creek Road fire at Lake Bathurst on the Saturday night, this was started by a slasher only two or three days after heavy rain and three days later one on Lumley Road in Bungonia's area started by a 'harmless' Victa lawn mower. Even after rain well cured vegetation can easily ignite, given the right conditions as is evidenced by the last two incidents.

The Brigade Auction is April 13th and any help on the day, the day before or the Monday after would be greatly appreciated. With few exceptions most items can be auctioned on the day, however those special items such as caravans, machinery, vehicles, antiques etc. usually generate a wider interest if we are advised well in advance and they are advertised in the paper – the more buyers that are interested, the better the bidding.

We will be conducting a Bushfire Fighter's course the weekend of June 15th, the only requirements are that you are over 16 years of age and are a Brigade member; those wishing to participate should contact the Captain, Rex Hockey. It doesn't follow that you then need to make yourself available for the monthly training or be willing to go to every incident, although new fire fighters are most welcome. The course will enable you to assist with catering to and on the fire ground, and also give you a better understanding of bushfire behaviour and increase your general bushfire awareness.

Windellama Landcare

Windellama Landcare Group's first working bee for 2013 will be at Serengetti (Oallen Ford Road next to Nadgigomar Creek) on Saturday 23rd March.

We will be trying to control gully erosion creeping from Nadgigomar Creek into an adjoining paddock. This job was first planned for October 2012 but was cancelled following 70mm of rain falling before the planned workday.

We encourage members and others to attend this working bee as some new techniques in erosion control will be tried which could be used on your own property. An experienced staff member from the Catchment Management Authority will be present to guide us through the day. We will meet at 9.30am for the usual cuppa before starting work for the day.

The entrance to the property is located immediately on the left after crossing Nadgigomar Creek heading towards Nerriga from Windellama.

A large basket of goodies awarded to our Landcare group before Christmas will be distributed amongst workers on the day. Don't miss out. To assist with catering arrangements please let Marian know if you are coming (48445244).

Landcare members were saddened by the news of the death of Ian Proctor who passed away on February 3. Ian was an enthusiastic Landcarer who devoted much of his time conducting trials into the selection of suitable species of dung beetles for the Windellama district. Ian was an exponent of the cell grazing method which was used successfully in maintaining his large herd of Alpacas. Vale Ian.

Annual membership is now due. Please send your dues to the Treasurer, Judy Yates at 866 Willow Glen Road, Windellama. If you are new to the area and you are interested in joining Landcare why not join us at one of our working bees. Membership of Windellama Landcare is $5.00 per family. Children are welcome.

WILD WINDELLAMA: Carina Clarke's articles, accompanied by her beautiful sketches, about local birds, animals, plants, insects, fish and reptiles of the local area were published in The Windellama News over a number of years, are now collected in a two volume set called Wild Windellama. Copies are available from the Secretary, Windellama Landcare (4844 5047) at $10.00 per set.

Looking Out For Depression

Depression is an illness that affects many older people. It generally affects their physical as well as their mental well-being. Fortunately, it is a highly treatable illness. Complete, or at least partial improvement, can be obtained in eighty to ninety percent of cases.

Depression can occur "out of the blue," for no obvious reason, or it can occur as a response to adverse life circumstances, such as the loss of a spouse, the loss of a job, the loss of good health, or the loss of any other significant thing or relationship. Regrettably, the nature of depression is such that affected persons, as a result of being depressed, are actually unlikely to realize that they are depressed, and even more unlikely to seek help for themselves. This is related directly to the nature of the symptoms of depression which we will discuss momentarily. The implication of this fact, however, is that healthy relatives and friends of older people should be on the lookout for signs of depression among their older relatives and friends, so they can assist them to obtain treatment.

The Tell Tale Signs of Depression

Not every depressed person experiences all of the signs of depression. But the presence of a whole cluster of these signs should arouse concern, and should lead to having the person evaluated by a physician or mental health professional. The most common signs of depression are:

- a sad, discouraged, mood
- blue, or empty
- persistent pessimism about the present, the future, and the past
- loss of interest in work, hobbies, social life, and sex
- difficulty in making decisions
- lack of energy, and feeling slowed down
- thoughts of suicide
- restlessness, irritability
- loss of appetite and loss of weight
- disturbed sleep, especially early morning awakening
- depressive, gloomy, or desolate dreams

Treatment of Depression

There are three main forms of treatment for depression: (1) counseling and/or psychotherapy; (2) antidepressant medications; and (3) electroconvulsive therapy or ECT.

Psychotherapy can be used when the individual who is depressed is still able to interact with a counselor or therapist, and when a specific loss can be identified about which the depressed person can talk with a therapist.

Antidepressant medication can be used when the depression comes on "out of the blue," or when the individual can no longer respond to verbal support, explanations, or other psychological interactions.

ECT is used only rarely, in the most severe cases, when the patient does not respond to these other forms of therapy, or when medications cannot be used due to specific medical reasons.

A variety of mental health professionals, including physicians, psychologists, or social workers, can provide counseling or psychotherapy. Antidepressant medication can only be prescribed by a physician, who may be a psychiatrist, a family doctor or internist. ECT can generally only be administered in a psychiatric hospital setting.

Response to therapy may take several weeks. Antidepressant medications may have side effects. These can include drowsiness, constipation, blurred vision, dry mouth, and even dizziness. When such side effects occur, they must be reported promptly to the doctor who will determine with the patient whether to continue the medication, reduce the dosage, switch to another medication or stop medication altogether.

As the depressed person begins to feel better, he or she should not stop treatment on their own but do so only on the advice of their doctor. Recent research has shown that people with recurrent depressions should stay on a maintenance dose of antidepressants. Above all, resuming an active life after depression is important in preventing the recurrence of "the mean blues."

VEGETABLES

Put seedlings of cauliflowers, cabbages, brussel sprouts or broccoli in now and water them in with liquid fertilizer to get these plants established for winter harvesting.

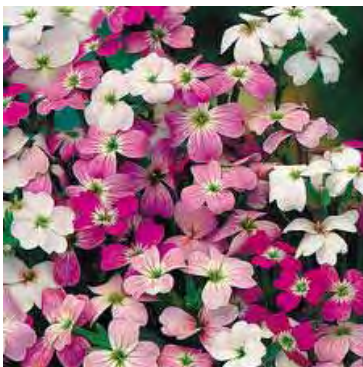

Lettuce, turnips, radish and white onions, can also go in now.

FLOWERS

Seedlings of alyssum, pansy, viola, stocks, poppies, calendula, carnations, dianthus, polyanthus, larkspur, snapdragons, statice, verberna, can go in now.

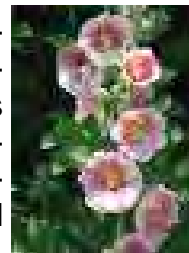

Seeds of Virginian stock can be sown directly into the garden as a border plant or grow in a large pot. Virginian stocks have dainty spring flowers in white, cream, soft pink and lavender. When they germinate give them a feed of liquid fertilizer.

Other seedlings that can be planted are wallflower, sweet Williams.

Perennial plants, providing the weather hasn't been too hot, will be in the nurseries this month. Plants such as hollyhocks, Canterbury bells, aquilegia (columbines), delphiniums and pentstemons. These perennial can be divided from your garden and replanted in good compost rich soil.

Watch roses for aphids and caterpillars, you can spray with complete rose spray, or hose off the bugs.

Chrysanthemums can get black aphids on them, you can spray with Malathion.

You can fertilizer your lawn now it will strengthen your lawn for winter. After fertilizer water in well.

You can take cutting of geraniums, fuschia and hydrangeas. Put cuttings in a terra cotta pot. A pot 10cm across will take anything up to a dozen cuttings, making sure they are planted around the edge as they get more warmth. Mixture of 1 part coarse sand to 2 parts of peatmoss, or good potting mix. Cover with a plastic bag tied around the rim will help keep the cutting moist. Have the cuttings with a least 2 eyes in the mixture and 2-3 eyes out.
